

Hanson, Wondering Why

I'm wondering why...

Once again I'm playing
Lies are all you're saying
Got me wondering why
Just wondering why
While you're on the breaking
Feel my spirit sinking
Got me wondering why
Just wondering why

With all the time you're wasting
Maybe you can just make up your mind

There's nowhere to run
There's nowhere to hide
You're driving me crazy baby
So you better decide
You better decide

There's nowhere

What it takes to see there's something wrong
You got me wondering why
Just wondering why
It was a sunny day but you brought all the rain
You got me wondering why
Just wondering why

With all the time you're wasting
Maybe you can just make up your mind

There's nowhere to run
There's nowhere to hide
You're driving me crazy baby
So you better decide
You better decide

There's nowhere to run
So you better decide

There's nowhere to run

With all the time you're wasting
Maybe you can just make up your mind

There's nowhere to run
There's nowhere to hide
You're driving me crazy baby
So you better decide

There's nowhere to run
There's nowhere to hide
You're driving me crazy baby
So you better decide
