

Happy Campers, Fork In The Road

A time not long ago friends would come and go but one or two would seem to stick around Hangin' out like everyday seems they'll never go away best freinds are forever they'll always be down it seems we're at the start of when things fall apart it won't be long before we go our seperate ways You've changed and so have I think I know the reasons why but I can't take us back to the good ol' days How could you change so much?
You changed so drastically It wasn't long ago that you agreed with me You wanted to have fun to live life was to play what could've happened to make those feelings go away?
