

Hard Rain, An Ordinary Day

It's just an ordinary day
But life won't last forever
If you've got anything to say
Just try to make it clever
'Cause you ain't going to change the world
You could make it better
It's just an ordinary day
Some say it's okay

You're in a desperate state of mind
You found out love's a killer
It shouldn't treat you so unkind
You're talking no beginner
But after all is said and done
You never will forgive her
You're in a desperate state of mind

Hold on, not so fast
I'm the woman you walked past

Didn't I tell ya about it, we should be together
Coming on to ya, I'm coming on to ya, baby
How did you feel about it when you read the letter?
Wondered who's this from, someone who'll love ya better

It's just an ordinary day
Life can last forever
If you've got anything to say
Just laugh and make it clever
'Cause you ain't going to change the world
But you could make it better
It's not an ordinary day
I'll say I'll pray

Hold on, not so fast
I'm the woman you walked past

Didn't I tell ya about it, we should be together
Coming on to ya, I'm coming on to ya, baby
How did you feel about it when you read the letter?
Wondered who's this from, someone who'll love ya better

Walking in the rain - she made you cry again
Walking in the rain - going to love ya better
Walking in the rain - going to love ya better

Didn't I tell ya about it, we should be together
Coming on to ya, I'm coming on to ya, baby
How did you feel about it when you read the letter?
Wondered who's this from, someone who'll love ya better
