

Harlan Howard, Now Everybody Knows

You have made no secret of your new love affair
He buys you pretty presents he takes you everywhere
You seen him all the places you and I once went
You sit and hold each other close in front of all our friends
Everybody knows everybody knows how my heart cries
(ac.guitar)
There's no need to tell you you're too in love to see
And anything I told you baby you called jealousy
But if he ever breaks your heart the way that you broke mine
Just come running back to me you're welcome anytime
Everybody knows everybody knows how my heart cries
Everybody knows how your love for him grows as our love dies
