

Harvey Danger, Down At The, Terminal Annex

here's something beautiful now smash it to bits save your little wheelchair empowerment films save your swoons, i'm spoken for it isn't pretty to think so but i can't feign interest now dreaming of the fistfight i never got into thinking of the mean shit i wish i'd said to you such a fancy lady, call her secretina she didn't get all the good stuff but she looked like you like a zero drowning in a sea of higher numbers everything you say to me is dumb, (at least it's stupid)

twenty heavy hammers smashing down here's a doorstep you can never darken you complain about an overflowing cup. don't forget that i'm the one who filled that fker up

i remain as ever intrigued but no more astounded
i think that i like you better when you just ignore me so i sit and notice shadows growing i think of how the clocks are slowing hoping hope's eternal flowing springs will do their thing and save me from myself

you want ego? i will show you ego i'm jealous now
