

Hatesphere, What I See I Despise

Its been feeding on dark thought in me
Spreading rumours in my mind
Building anger in my heart
Burning hatred in my eyes
Now I see through all the lies
What I see I despise
What I see I recognize
I twist their every world
To find a crack
To see the truth
To find the place Ive been used
To find a piece of me in you
To find something I can abuse
Now I see
You need me to put your weakness on
I spit on the hand you offer
Spit on the words you speak
You will never find me trusting
You will never find me weak
What I see I despise
What I see I recognize
Its all sickening to me
All these good intentions

I Remember all the times you let me down
When I found myself alone
All the times you werent around
Left me time to think
Who you are
What you give
What I need
What I see I despise
What I see I recognize
I dont need no one but me!
