

Hawthorne Heights, I Am On Your Side

i never meant to hurt you sometimes these thoughts have a way making sense secrets that we keep turn into accidents if you burn away the bonds with the fires of selfishness the positive the negative have a way of making ends end this now we've gone too far let's take back words that turned to scars if i can find a way to turn back time i had to let you know i'm on your side took the easy way out i showed my self doubt the only way to ease the pain is to drink until i drown i'll say it out loud my voice is the only sound so listen up, i'll spell it out i need your help, i need it now

if i could find a way to turn back time

am i now everything that you wanted me to be tried my best took a shot in the dark and i lost end this now we've gone too far
