

Hazel O'Connor, Animal Farm

{Words & Music: Hazel O'Connor}

The cock it crowed "It's morning"
the donkey said "Ee-aw"
The pigs they grunted expectantly for the farmer to open the door
The chickens started clucking, they could not lay no eggs
They were just plain frightened,
Remembering what the pigs had said "just do as you're told"
Remembering what the pigs had said
And they all sang

[CHORUS:]

We will be happy, we will be free,
We're going to make it, make equality
Hap-happy are we

Now the pig said "This is our day
We're gonna chase the farmer away
Now everyone must do their work like before
Except for me and I must think for you behind this door"

So they chased the farmer away,
And the pig got on his soap box to say
"And don't you worry don't you make no fuss
All you have to do is follow us
And do as you're told
All you have to do is follow us"
And they all sang

[CHORUS]

Hap-happy are we, hap-happy are we, we're so holy

The cock it crowed "It's morning";
The donkey said "Ee-aw";
The chickens clucked expectant
For the pig to open the door

[CHORUS]

Hap-happy are we, hap-happy are we, we're so holy Hap-happy are we, hap-happy are we, hap-happy are we, we're so holy
