

Hazel O'Connor, Mystifies

Hazel O'Connor - Neil O'Connor

I want to see inside the situation
I want to paint some backdrop for my own inspiration
I want to see to have been to have dreamed to my highest aspiration and I'm going there, how long it takes I don't care, I've got patience

I stepped inside
I tried to see
A life without when in could be
I won't give up
I know you see
But what makes you think I believe that
You got somethin' i need
You got somethin' i need
And if it mystifies you
Where's your soul?
Where's your soul?

Well you talk so much in double Dutch
It scares you that you change it such is life and you know I care of course I care,
But I won't wear the trappings of a wife and when you think you know the music's dead it'll still be going round, and round your head
And your pride and your pride and your pride,
It's cold comforts in your bed

I stepped inside
I tried to see
A life without when in could be
I won't give up
I know you see
But what makes you think I believe that
You got somethin' I need
You got somethin' I need
And if it mystifies you
Where's your soul?
And if it mystifies you
Where's your soul?
Where's your soul?

Come on and give me your soul
I want your soul
Where's your soul?
