

Head East, You'll Be The One

Now you're telling me you're going
Why you're leaving I don't know
I could tell you, you were wrong
But you're leaving heart and soul

But just before you change your life
And just before you go
Long before the morning light
There's something you should know

You'll be the one
Be the one, forever
Yes, you'll be the one
Be the one, forever

And now we're waiting for that train
One more hour and you'll be gone
And I'll be standing in the rain
Always seems to take so long

And just before you say goodbye
And just before you go
Long before the morning light
There's one thing you should know

Chorus

Oh you'll be the one, you'll be the one
Forever and ever
You'll be the one, you'll be the one
Forever and ever
