

Headhunter, The Calling

Hear my calling!

You have lost your luck, now it's too late to cry

Time to accept it -- today is a good day to die

Push it to the limit, warnings been ignored

Here my last advice now you better feed the lord

Hear my calling can you resist -- hear my warning

Sacrificed and stigmatized

Hear my calling can you resist -- hear my warning

One more face of death you will be forgotten before dawn

One more on the list, on the left behind

Puppet of the filthy rich -- cannon fodder

Leaving families behind -- the real victims of war

Hear my calling can you resist -- hear my warning

Sacrificed and stigmatized

Hear my calling can you resist -- hear my warning

Your starving kids and your crying kinship

Will suffer from your deadly hit

Your suicide fight change the face of misery

Fast glory won't pay off the agony

They promised you glory and eternal life

Heroism shall leave a proud wife

They use your rage missue your flesh

Greed for power creates human trash!

Hear my calling can you resist -- hear my warning

Sacrificed and stigmatized

Hear my calling can you resist -- hear my warning
