

Headstones, Come On

Come On

I see you smiling you're smiling for the camera You're trying to catch a moment of truth in propaganda Well all the doors are open and you know what's important You're here to live your life or are you here to front for shorty

Come on I know that you're waiting come on So check the price you're paying come on You can't afford the minutes You know the time is moving You know the clock is ticking

Right now It's the only moment that counts Is right now Is the only time I've no doubt Is right now

I know the struggle that happiness is haunted You don't get what you need And you don't get what you want Now everything is ringing Reality is calling If you're digging Gary Busey You're living Buddy Holly

Come on Lean into the curve and come on You know the nerves are perfect come on Look down from above it Just see just where we're at And to know how far we've come
