

HeadUp, Numb

I've never ever felt so low here where I am there is no life void surrounds me, empty hush I really dont know that I do dead teacher's voice, he's looking at me a loud whisper, silent scream soulless man I worship you its better to close tired eyes I knew you were waiting for this blood can bring you near to me freezed in time, its not a dream there is an echo far away slow, labored breath, let me go you've got to stay very calm say simple words, don't be shy at least I found my inner god

Watch me going nowhere
This will be over soon outside myself
I named my fear
outside myself
i still believe in myself
