

Hear The Sirens, A Tale Of Two Cities

This shit is killing me, what did we do to deserve it?
In passing time, our hearts, our minds stood true to what you hate.
Now together in this room, these words have lost their meaning.
With your elite, context you seek: a big fucking joke.
Don't say a word! I hope to see your world's demise.
Spare me from the mask of lies.
Don't try and act like we are one;
cold blooded times will be undone.
This shit is killing me, what we did we do to deserve it?
With their blank stares, nothing to share;
self made to show us all how to lead a group, who follow oh so blindly.
With motives wrong, for far too long: a big fucking joke.
I hope to see your world's demise.
Spare me from the mask of lies.
Don't try and act like we are one;
cold blooded times will be undone.
If you make these kids fall down,
we'll pick them up; no more fear!