

Heather Duby, What You Thought

Letting go is easy,
but once you look back you're lost,
and I tried to tell you how not to waste my time...

Yesterday I left you,
and today it cost,
and it's sweet to see how we choose to remember...

What was it you thought you saw in me??
What was it you thought you saw in me?

Now my time is empty,
at least I know it's mine...
and if I should see you, I won't know what to say...

Yes I know I'm foolish,
and don't know what I've done,
and I'm sorry you get to live with my mistake...

What was it you thought you saw in me??
What was it you thought you saw in me?

What was it you thought you saw in me??
What was it you thought you saw in me?
