

Heather Nova, Heaven Sent

Got the lights down low, the street below
The world inside is spinning
All my memories, my doubts about
The ways that I've been living
You come on like the sun
And blow it all away.

And I guess heaven sent you 'cause I'm heaven high
And I'm heading into what I can't describe
It's all I ever wanted but I'm terrified,
You're in my head, in my veins, in my world
And you're here to stay

Every day I wake, I hesitate
I feel you in my sky
All the melodies, my dreams, it seems
You're always on my mind
You come on like the tide, you turn me
And I can't turn away

And I guess heaven sent you
'Cause I'm heaven high
And I'm heading into what I can't describe
It's all I ever wanted but I'm terrified;
You're in my head, in my veins, in my world
And you're here to stay
