

Heather Nova, Widescreen

Lately I've been slipping down thinking I'm the only one drifting in and out of the blue but destiny's a state of mind and today I'm doing fine just rolling through the afternoon with you

(chorus)

And it's a widescreen world around me
and I'm lying on the backseat of my mind
and it's a widescreen, got you beside me
we're just riding on the backseat feeling fine

I will be your misfit queen I'll take you where the grass is green past the littered sidewalk to the sun I hear the traffic move outside yeah, but if I close my eyes I can make it sound like waves rolling on

And it's a widescreen world around me
and I'm lying on the backseat of my mind
and it's a widescreen, got you beside me
we're just riding on the backseat feeling fine

And if we lie still, can you feel the room can you feel the city, can you feel it move?
Can you tell your body, your body from mine?
Can you la la la lie

(chorus)
