

Heatmiser, Dirty Dream

It all came back to me in the bathroom
After I woke up from a really dirty dream
But it didn't sound quite right
Under an unforgiving light
So I forgot about it and went back to sleep
Don't want to tell you everything
Have it come out sounding like a joke
Don't wanna know what I look like
Under a microscope
And I swore I was gonna enjoy the summer
But you gave me too much time to kill
I didn't ask for it
You took off and I stood still
There's no one coming over tonight

What an unforgiving night
What an unforgiving night
What an unforgiving night
What an unforgiving night
The fingers were blue and waved
Like paper, the water was so cold I got stars
In my eyes
I figured it out when I was in the bathroom
Just before I turned off the light
Don't want to tell you anything
Have it come out sounding like a joke
Don't wanna know what I look like
Under a microscope
I woke up from another dirty dream
