

Hedley, Saturday

Believe me, It's easy
To scream when your bleeding.
You wonder what's under your bed when your sleeping.
They take you. They make you
Forget what you're needing.
But hey, It's just another saturday.
It's only just another saturday.

I love you. I need you.
Like a thousand times before.
Wonder why I hate you.
But I'll scream and ask for more.
I'm standing, I'm knocking but you
Won't open the door.
If I feel then I need if I love,
Then i'm free.

Believe me, It's easy
To read between the lines.
When mommy says sorry,
Over a thousand times.
You're tied up you're cried up.
You need a break from here
But hey it's just another saturday.
It's only just another saturday.

I love you. I need you.
Like a thousand times before.
Wonder why I hate you.
But I scream and ask for more.
I'm satnding, I'm knocking
But you won't open the door.
If I feel then I need If I love
Then I'm...

All I've wanted, All I've needed
Is everything you're not to me.

I love you I need you.
Like a thousand times before.
Wonder why I hate you.
But I scream and ask for more.
I'm standing I'm knocking,
But you won't open the door
I feel then I need If I love
Then i'm...
Then I'm free.
