

Hefner, Your Head To Your Toes

It's a beautiful road from your head to your toes
I will travel it with my fingers barely touching
It's a sight to behold from your head to your toes
I will worship it with kisses and cheap wine

What do you want with me, since you've seen me at my worst?
What do you want with me? Can't you see it's absurd?
I have nothing to offer but a small selfish heart
But I love you from your head to your toes, I do
But I love you from your head to your toes, I do

It's a valley so divine at the base of your spine
Sometimes I rest there and wish
We've a nest here to build, we have memories to kill
Let's waste some time for a while

What do you want with me, since you see I've been bad?
What do you want with me? Can't you see it's so sad?
I have nothing to offer but a small selfish heart
But I love you from your head to your toes, I do
Oh, I love you from your head to your toes, I do
