Heideroosjes, Memories Of Pain

Her eyes tell the sadness she feels inside Surrounded by darkness while the sun shines bright The smile on her face is just to pretend That nothing is wrong but she is marked till the end Confusion throws a young girl's mind apart Like a knife that cuts out the feeling of her heart

(CHORUS)

The past, it's never gone, constantly it will return Memories in her soul, forever burn Moments of pain, without any fun There's to much misery in a life that's just begun

She feels old but her age is just seventeen
Dark side of a thing called life is all she's seen
The way she looks tell me more than words can say
She's alone with fears in a world of betray
None can share her pain, it's a stigma deep inside
She needs a rest but it's a never ending fight

(CHORUS)

The tears that have fallen, they will fall again Again and again she feels the fear she felt then Her only wish is to lock that door to the past And throw away the key faster than fast Only than stops the pain she doesn't deserve Only than stops the pain that none deserves

(CHORUS)
