

Helium, Trixie's Star

"Trixie says shes blown away by what she sees there's a heaven, there's a heaven on the TV There's a movie star for you and one for me Someday it'd be so right, so right to be (Cruising and shooting and fucking like some kind of movie)

Little star of the heavens, tiny star above Shiny, shiny light, tell me if i've got the love pick me up on your silver studded dove we could watch down on us from above (to see how ugly and dirty and lost we were, this is so rough)

Vita, Vita Nuova, cause it feels so right star of your birth, baby the brand new life and the universe will move for you that stupid curse fell through (while we were wondering what the hell to do)
