

Hell Is For Heroes, Once And For All

With open arms, take me in
Grip like iron, keep me close

You were my puppeteer
By your hands I could dance
Through your mouth I could sing
Without word you cut the strings
All at once ushered in
A change of guard

And you said once and for all

Hoisted up like a prize
Looking like a murder trial
Begging for a second chance
Mark this spot with a cross
Digging for cover with monster like claws

And with open arms, take me in
With open arms pass me by
With guilty eyes
With guilty eyes
With guilty eyes
