

Hell Is For Heroes, Stranger In You

If I could let you in
To greet the vermin inside
Id find a way through your heart
And raise some hell again
Or maybe just settle down
Id be the one
Someone you could remember

The trail went sideways
Youll find me out some day
When the ice has burned
Standing here in cold blood

And I would come up for air
If it was not for my pride
Id be the one
Or maybe not, its alright

Ill find you out someday
After all the trials
I see the stranger in you.
