

Hellfueled, Second Deal

I must make a deal with him tonight, show myself and step out in the light.
I'm going down the stairs into the wall, cautious with my steps so I don't fall.
Going up and going down far away from home.
Walking on an endless trail, just going on deep into the night.
I'm on the way to no where, how can you know how I feel?
I need a second deal
It's getting late, I'm running out of time.
I feel scared, my life is on the line.
I feel a spirit circling round and round.
Fear I'm lost and never will be found.
I will make a second deal tonight !
Show myself and step out in the light.
How can you know how I feel? I need a second deal !
Now you must know how I feel, since I got my second deal.
