Helmet, Throwing Punches

Darlin' was a hit Started throwing punches She connects, never gets what she wants And she wants

She's unhinged Swears now that was then Just a little glitch Patch it up again And she wants And she wants And she wants

So far I don't understand this There's no misunderstanding There's nothing here to get She wants more than my attention She's not above invention But I don't really care

It's unreal, she'll tell you what you wanna hear Feel her infection touch you and rot And you rot And you rot And you rot

So far I don't understand this There's no misunderstanding There's nothing here to get She wants more than my attention She's not above intention But I don't really care

Don't know what you want or how far You fall when you're unhinged Coming back for more I was only horny

so far I don't understand this There's no misunderstanding There's nothing here to get She wants more than my attention She's not above invention But I don't really care
