

Hem, Home Again

I count the cars out on the highway
I think about you now and then
The stars are out and no one knows me
Til I'm home again

The sun breaks across the water
A warm reminder on the wind
The days are sweet but what I want is to be home again
To be home again
And I'm home again

And the stars keep shining but I'll never look back
Let the stars keep shining but I'll never look back

The map is tearing at the corners
I can't remember where I've been
The world unfolding while the highway takes me home again
And I'm home again
And I'm home again

And the stars keep shining but I'll never look back
Let the stars keep shining but I'll never look back
Cuz I'm home again
And I'm home again

Wanna be home again
Gonna go home again
Gonna go home again
Wanna be home again
