Hem, Idle (The Rabbit Song)

Broken moon in the sky Enough to pull up our eyes From the ground where we hide From the ground where we hide

Gonna waste some time with you and let this world go Keep my heart idle Gonna waste my time with you and let this love go A broken heart, idle

Restless stars through the trees Enough to fall to our knees Make no sound so no one sees Make no sound so no one sees

Gonna waste some time with you and let this world go Keep my heart idle Gonna waste my time with you and let this love go A restless heart, idle
