

Her Majesty, Power Plant

I've spent my life to get this far and now I have it all a perfect wife and a brand new car parked outside our happy home she waves me off when I go away to work I kiss her cheek and I leave her kids and her inside they're safe inside

oh,electricity a necessity and the powerplant provides let's go, alright

I know there's something inside
I know there's something alright
I've seen the bright white light
I know there's something inside

I feel I'm just about to blow I'm ready to explode
I know inside it's time to go but life is moving on how come I feel this way?

I just don't know expected to feel great then everything came down,oh no...

electricity a necessity
and the powerplant provides
let's go, alright

I know there's something inside
I know there's something alright
I've seen the bright white light
I know there's something inside

I know there's something inside
I know there's something alright
I've seen the bright white light
I know there's something inside

oh!