

Hey, Between

Between the idea and the reality
Between the motion and the act
Between the conception and the creation
Between the desire and the spasm

Between the everything falls the shadow
This is the way the world ends

Between the idea and the reality
Between the motion and the act
Between the conception and the creation
Between the desire and the spasm

Between the everything falls the shadow
This is the way the world ends

Between the everything falls the shadow
This is the way the world ends

Between the everything falls the shadow
This is the way the world ends
