

High Hopes, Unborn

I feel in my mind a trap I can't see
My body's asking, but I am an idiot
I wish I could be close to (your) soft warm arms
Your eyes always on me breaking my defenses

I know this picture covers my mind
I created this dream and I should think it is
I should think it is and I know, I know it's not

I waste my time
Where is, Where is this child Oh
Out for a long, long time,
Today I try to, today I try to fall down

Love and some other things only
Because I'm outside
Various tries all new, Eve is so sweet today
Your eyes and mines, another game,
That is my fault everyday

I know this picture covers my mind
I created this dream and I should think it is
I should think it is and I know, I know it's not

Why should I pay, why should I stay?
I won't get lost another day
You'll never know, this time I'm loud
(I'm) not gonna wait for this never ending show
Ignore the screams hurting inside
Ignore the screams those hollow flares
You'll never know, you'll never know
You'll never know, stop wasting my

I waste my time
Where is, Where is this child Oh
Out for a long, long time,
Today I try to, today I try to,
Today I tried to, today I tried to fall down
But this is the end.
