

Hillsong United, Wonder

I should have been the guilty one
But You took the blame for everything
I should have been in exile
But You became the door to freedom.

I used to live in the darkness,
Searching for a way of escape.
Then You turned the light on
Now I can see, now I can see

You're the answer for the world
The healer of our hearts
Oh, what a wonder You are.
You're my all-sufficiency
The author of forgiveness
Oh, what a wonder,
A wonder-working God.

Once I was a stranger
You welcomed me as a long lost friend
Now I have a future
Found in the Son, found in the Son.
