

Hitchcock Russell, Where Did The Feeling Go?

Our love, nothing to do
It's lonely here, without you
The candlelight is burning low
The love songs on the radio
And memories are all I have to show
Photographs, tickets for two
Promises that all fell through
Now everything's in black and white
The colors faded with the night
And the stars we used to wish upon
Have somehow lost their light

Chorus:

Where is the feeling we used to know
Where is the music that played
What happened to the love that used to show
Where did the feeling go
Thoughts of you, feel my mind
Paperbacks to pass the time
Now as I lie awake tonight
I'll leave the poach light burning bright
And nest the loving arms
That used to hold me tight

(CHORUS)

(Guitar Solo)

(CHORUS)

What happened to the love that used to show
Where did the feeling go
