

Hocico, Hell On Earth

No one can stop you you wanna be there in their smile no way you can forget it corroded feelings, fire in your heart.

Pierce into the storm there's fear in the answers hearing a faint voice from the past memories of pain.

An evil force it's corroding all your actions There's no hope it's reflected in blood shoot eyes.

Another crime, another passion innocence doesn't fit blazes, ash inhalation the worst burn is yet to come.

Blazes rise your world's insane deep inside your heart is still the pain pain that drives you in to this hell a sweet course eating you away.

Let him burn!
I hear his crying.
I see his body turning to ashes
