

Hog Heaven, Light Of The Lord

Oh, there's a crystal city where the angels wait
For the children of promise to congregate.
And in the glow of glory we will celebrate
When his love comes full circle one sweet day.

Well, once again I hear the call and my mind begins to wander.
Though it's taken time someday it's gonna come.
'Cause when the light of the Lord comes shining through that door
I'll be free, yes, I'll be free forevermore.

I'll be free.
I'll be free to lay down my burden and come home.
'Cause when the light of the Lord comes shining through that door
I'll be free, yes, I'll be free forevermore.
