

Holden Avenue, Amplitude

Let's put it all together-
The story of your life
It seems like it was
Neverending path of lies
You thought you knew
You felt like you were god
Now you don't know what to do
Your self-esteem has died
Died - like it was never there
Without it you are scared
Too much to think about
It's dead and won't be back
You're going down again
It's almost very end
Your soul burns down in flames
Now it's you, who needs our help
From the top to the bottom
Do you think I care?
You should have thought before
Now it's too late
