

Holly Palmer, If You Believe

I get down on my knees
And crawl inside and spin around
And look for you
Dive into the pillows
I get down on my knees

You're gone and I'm not that sad without you
I'm not that mad without you
But I do still think about you

If you believe then come over
And tell me you're okay
If you believe that it's over
I'll walk away, I'll walk away

The pinholes at the back of my mind
Let just enough light in to see the fake newsprint
And just be able to make out the words
That I wish that they'd said
I wish you'd said yes to me

You're gone and I'm not that sad without you
I'm not that mad without you
But I do still think about you

If you believe then come over
And tell me you're okay
If you believe that it's over
I'll walk away, I'll walk away

And maybe I'll make you change your mind
And maybe we'll make it right this time
And slide into our love story

If you believe then come over
And tell me you're okay
If you believe that it's over
I'll walk away, I'll walk away
