

Holly Palmer, The 100th Time

I'm not joking baby
Here's a token
Catch a train
Go to someone else
You're mistaken
If you think I'm takin' you back
Like the fool I have been
You're insincere insensitive
You can't communicate
You don't let me talk
Everything is my fault
I can't sleep in your hard bed

We stop and we start and we crack apart

Time out baby
Now wait a minute
You're not sucking me back in it
One more touch and I'll crush
'Cause I know what'll happen
There I go for the hundredth time

I'm for real
Baby how I feel's
You don't hold appeal for me now
I'm not listening
I can see your lips moving
But you're not reaching me now
I've never been more serious
You can't change my mind
But why you so fine
While you're wasting my time?
Why you have to stand so close?

Not here not there no hands nowhere

Time out baby
Now wait a minute
You're not sucking me back in it
One more touch and I'll crush
Because I know what'll happen
There I go for the hundredth time

So much so wrong
Your kiss is so strong

Time out baby now
You're not sucking me back
One more touch and I'll crush
I know what'll happen
When you go for the hundredth time
Here I go
It'll happen
When I go for the hundredth time
...99 100 gotta stop and wonder
Get another lover baby
