

Holly Valance, Connect

Why are you searching for another lover?
Why don't you give me some respect?

I wanna strong, sensitive guy
I want him brow, but ever so shy
A gentleman with dignity too
If you don't get this, it ain't you
I wanna boy to make me feel fine
With a little look in his eye
Gotta give as good as you get
If you want to start with it

You gotta be appealing
You gotta do it right
If you can't say you love me
We can't unite

Why are you searching for another lover?
Why don't you give me some respect?
When will we just learn how to like each other?
Why don't we learn how to connect?

I wanna guy in which to confide
There to tell my secrets and lies
I wanna boy who's genuine too
If it ain't your style then it ain't you
I never meant to be so tough
But I guess I'm gonna find the perfect love
Listen to the lines I sing
Or I won't give you anything

You gotta be appealing
You gotta do it right
If you can't say you love me
We can't unite

Why are you searching for another lover?
Why don't you give me some respect?
When will we just learn how to like each other?
Why don't we learn how to connect?

(Ooh)
Slow it down
Leave the body and the mind
Slow it down
Come on and see what you find
(Ooh)
Slow it down
(Ooh)
Leave the body and the mind
(Ooh)
Slow it down
(Ooh)
Come on and see what you find

You gotta be appealing
You gotta do it right
If you can't say you love me
We can't unite

Why are you searching for another lover?
Why don't you give me some respect?
When will we just learn how to like each other?
Why don't we learn how to connect?
