

Home Grown, I Love You, Not

We've been dating for a week, and now you're asking me if I love you
I don't know what to say, hey, why don't we hit the hay
I'll be your love slave in the morning we'll pretend that we're okay

You're moving fast, don't get attached
I think you're hot, but I love you not when I'm with you, I don't wanna hear the words that don't mean anything to me
I don't love you, I will never say those words that don't mean anything to me

We are nothing but a fling, so don't expect a thing from me, girl
You're way too serious
Why don't you just build a bridge, so you get over it and me, girl
We're freinds with benefits

You're moving fast, don't get attached
I think you're hot, but I love you not
when I'm with you, I don't wanna hear the words that don't mean anything to me
I don't love you, I will never say those words that don't mean anything to me

Pathetic hopeless romantic
Sometimes you just get it
Single is the way for me
Come play with me

You're movin' fast, don't get attached
I love your bod
You're moving fast, don't get attached
I think you're hot, but I love you not
when I'm with you, I don't wanna hear the words that don't mean anything to me
I don't love you, I will never say those words that don't mean anything to me
I don't love you
I will never way those words that don't mean anything to me

That's right!
