

Home Grown, Midnight City Sky

cigarettes and lonely nights my stomach burns with butterflies this emptiness feels like a midnight city sky i just want to feel your skin trace every line and back again and breath in your every breath just like it was my own whoaaaaaaaaa

im missing you tonight
and every second cuts just like a knife whoa whooooooooooooo
im missing you tonight

ohhhhhhaaaa ohhhhhhaaaa

the smoke stings my sleepless eyes i squint the world into a thousand blinding lights my shaking hands hold photographs that bring so many memories back they're torn and crinkled from all these nights they had to last ohhhhhh whoaaaaaa

and every second cuts just like a knife whoa whooooooooo
tell me what to do cause i just can't make it through another night without you here when every seconds feels just like a year ohhhhhhhhhh

is it fine to feel this way every hour in these days every minute every second every sunrise every sunset whoaaaaaa

im missing you tonight
and every second cuts just like a knife whooooooooo
tell me what to
every second feels just like a year
