

Home Town Hero, Everything Out Of Water

Be right in bed and i'll meet you with flowers its all in my head, til it tastes too sour when it went down, all i thought to say was

please stay awake now
the silence is painfully loud

[chorus:]
i should have been there i should have noticed we used to build everything out of water it made so much sense til you spilled another

[chorus]
