

Honestly, Away From You

So I thought it was a good idea
But now I've changed my mind
And I am walking backwards again
It happens every time
And I know I may have disappeared
But I wish I could rewind
To pick up all the pieces of me
That I have left behind
'Cause I can't forget
No, I can't forgive myself yet
I let you down
Took the wrong way out
I thought I knew
But I see it now
It's a long way down
Away from you
Every day the morning comes
And I wish you were around
I am looking backwards again
Where would we be now?

Pre-Chorus:

'Cause I can't forget
No, I can't forgive myself yet
I let you down
Took the wrong way out
I thought I knew
But I see it now
It's a long way down
Away from you
'Cause I can't forget
No, I can't forgive myself yet
I let you down
Took the wrong way out
I thought I knew
But I see it now
It's a long way down
Away from you
I let you down
Took the wrong way out
I thought I knew
But I see it now
It's a long way down
