

Honeycut, Silky

Lady

I'm not sure I follow

Your body

Shimmers with dayglow

Open the dreambox in my pillow

Somewhere it never snows

Well maybe

I should leave the tango

But baby

If so let me know

Sprinkles and twinkles won't sell the show

Go ask the stars; they know

Spin me

Baby please don't turn on the light

You're way too bright for me

Clearly my guitar is missing a string

But won't you sing with me

Silky

Is the way to your lips

Sulky

The way to your hips

What are the digits that clear the code

Switch to another mode

You sigh

You flicker like a candle

But tell me why

You make yourself so hard to handle

Offense and defense is not my game

Guess you're not mine to tame

Spin me

Baby please don't turn on the light

You're way too bright for me

Clearly my guitar is missing a string

But won't you sing with me
