

Honeydogs, I Miss You

Days are cold and gray
It's hard to be away
But I guess that's what I meant when I said 'I do'
And you said it too
I can't get used to this
No matter how hard I try
But if it goes on too much longer I'll probably die

Just because I've been away so long
And just because I'm not that strong
Just because a pretty woman turns me on
Doesn't mean I'm gonna be a fool
And give up what I got with you

I miss your laughing lips
I miss your eyes and hips
Do you miss me
'Cause I miss you

In a week or two I'm coming home to you
And when I get back there's a lot of things we're gonna do
I always think about the things you said
I always think about you in bed
Sometimes I try to think of something instead
But we made love for hours in my head

I miss your laughing lips
I miss your eyes and hips
Do you miss me
'Cause I miss you
I've been away so long
Right or wrong
Sometimes I can't even sing a song
I'm comin' there
I'm just about gone
I'm gonna love you all night long
In a week or two I'm comin' home to you
And when I get back there's a lot of things we're gonna do

Just because I've been away so long
And just because I'm not that strong
Just because a pretty woman turns me on
Doesn't mean I'm gonna be a fool
And give up what I got with you

I miss your laughing lips
I miss your eyes and hips
Do you miss me
'Cause I miss you
