Hoobastank, Escape

Another day goes without any change The feeling we live with still remains We're stuck in a hole and we're searching for anything to hold onto There has to be somewhere that we can be safe from the lives we live each day There has to be somewhere that we can be far away...

We have to escape and I will go anywhere if you just lead the way Escape to a place where we'll be together, together everyday We have to escape....

We could be living how we wanted to Instead of doing things we're forced to do With no one to tell us that we should be going throughwhat they went through There has to be some place that nobody knows, somewhere we can only go There has to be some place that we can be all alone....

We have to escape...
