

Hoobastank, Say the same

We've walked together down this winding road,
In search of something true. Together we grew.
But now our journey has come to an end,
And it's on to something new. For me and you.
So goodbye, my friend.
Until we meet again,
Some other day.
I know so much will change.
But looking back I can say,
I wouldn't change a day.
I hope you can say, I hope you can say
The same.
So many memories, we got to make,
the challenges we met. (?) I'll never forget.
'cause those lessons made us who we are today,
Now we're taking the next step. Without a regret.
No regret.
So goodbye, my friend.
Until we meet again,
Some other day.
I know so much will change.
But looking back I can say,
I wouldn't change a day.
I hope you can say, I hope you can say
I hope you can say,
The same.
