

Horny Dogs, March Of Stupids

They are killing hurting others and do think that it's right
They say we have a special permission by the power on the other side
But they not show evidently that this power is such a bright

I don't know why they hurt each other
I don't know why they hurt each other
They just do the same things under different names
People are just influenced by those who want more power
They want to fuck each other see their people dying
And all I see are stupid idiots following the stupid march

All what they believe in s acceptable because it's nearly all the same
But if they kill and die for that it is just a bloody shame
The big ones are playing with their lives like it would be a dirty game

I don't know why they hurt each other
I don't know why they hurt each other
They just do the same things under different names
People are just influenced by those who want more power
They want to fuck each other see their people dying
And all I see are stupid idiots following the stupid march

So don't close your eyes to follow them blind in a war wich has no sense
Action together and don't fight each other for people with power-plans
Then you will realize that you are sitting in the same boat with same interested friends

I don't know why they fight each other
I don't know why they hurt each other
They just do the same things under different names
People are just influenced by those who want more power
They want to fuck each other see their people dying
And all I want are different people living wih a common sense
And all I want are different people living wih a common sense
