

Horse The Band, Big Blue Violence

.....and on came a dawn..... YOU THOUGHT I'D SAY DYING
BLACK but i saw burning red, YOU THOUGHT I'D SAY DYING
BLACK but i saw burning red, YOU THOUGHT I'D SAY DYING BLACK but i saw burning red. it was all pedal down full speed anticipation- burning my belly, the scent and the hunger- waves crashing through amber coasts, twilight drives pacifyand then ignite. all the stars gave way to a big blue violence, all the stars gave way to a big blue violence, everything like a gem perfect like we've always wanted. in the crack of dawn ocean air told me things, this was what i had been waiting for, HER DO OR DIE APPEALED TO MY SENSIBILITIES, APPEALED TO ME- LIKE A SMACK, That's right-do or die, i came back different
