

Hot Rod Circuit, Knees

You can wake me when we get there
Because I don't care if I see the daylight
And I'd run there but my knees are weak
And my body needs to be close to you sometime soon

I don't ever need you to yell at me
Temperature will rise 98 degrees
I don't ever need you to yell at me
Temperature will rise, so I can barely breathe

You can wake me when we get there
Because I don't care if I see the daylight
And I'd run there but my knees are weak
And my body needs to be close to you sometime soon

I don't ever need you to yell at me
